Weekly Drop-In Workshops
During Fall and Spring semesters, the RWSSC offers Weekly Writing Workshops which are open to students working on papers for any UMass Boston course. At the sessions, students participate actively to improve their own writing, and to give advice to their peers. Students who are working on various stages of the writing process (for example, brainstorming, research, forming a thesis or argument, generating writing, reorganizing paragraphs, revising for clarity) can benefit from these workshops. Please contact rwssc@umb.edu for a current semester schedule of these sessions or view the RWSSC Weekly Writing Workshops SPRING 2018 flyer.
(Please note: This flyer will be updated semesterly, during the first few weeks of each semester.)

Other workshops
RWSSC tutors also lead single-sessions on specific study strategies at appropriate times throughout each semester. Recent sessions include: Cite/Write/Right, Do It Yourself Intellectual Property, and Exam Preparation and Test Taking. Please contact rwssc@umb.edu for a current semester schedule or view the RWSSC Drop-In Workshops Spring 2018 flyer.
(Please note: This flyer will be updated semesterly, during the first few weeks of each semester.)
